VOLUME LIII — UKIAH CITY, MENDOCINO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, AUGUST 12, 1921 — NUMBER 45

HOP MARKET JUMPS AGAIN

Hop growers were jubilant Wednesday when hops climbed up to 23 cents a pound on contract for the coming crop. Twenty-three cents was offered on an order for 200 bales at Santa Rosa. Monday a contract was made at twenty-two cents a pound. Later, a half cent advance was offered and Wednesday, the price ascended again. Yesterday, Walter M. Richardson purchased on contract, crop of 1921, 40,000 pounds of Sonoma county hops at 23 cents a pound.

Growers believe with the market advancing from last week at 20 cents to 23 cents now, that it will continue to rise. The shortage of hops in Europe has created a demand for California hops and it is expected that much more contracting will follow the picking of the crop. It is stated, however, that unless California hops are picked clean, there will be no market.

The local Hop Growers' Association will insist that hops be picked clean, and will penalize dirty picking. Also those who quit before the season is over without reasonable cause will be penalized. One dollar a hundred pounds is the price set for picking, but those picking dirty hops or quitting before close of the season will receive seventy-five cents per 100 pounds.

This week Robert McGarvey sold 170 bales of the 1920 crop to Ben Hall for 12 cents a pound, and Henderson Bros. disposed of 145 bales of 1920's to Anderson for a like amount.

COUNTY APPORTIONMENT OF STATE SCHOOL FUNDS

The county superintendent of schools this week received notice from the state that the sum apportioned Mendocino county grammar schools amounted to $140,103.04. The amount received from the state last year was $79,038.05. The big increase in the amount is due to the working of Amendment 16 adopted last year. It is mandatory that the county raise an amount at least equalling the state fund.

The amount apportioned to the high schools of the county was $30,866.44, more than double that of last year which was $14,979.36.

School teachers seem to be scarce in the county this year as there are four vacancies yet unfilled in the elementary schools.

MAN SERIOUSLY HURT IN FIGHT OVER MIRROR

A. Hill, a laborer on the Walker valley ranch, lies near death as the result of a fight over a missing looking glass.

H. Layne is also in jail for the same reason.

It seems that his looking glass was missing and he accused Hill of taking it. Hill resented the remark and a fight started when Layne picked up a two-by-four stick and struck him twice with it, fracturing his skull. The foreman took the injured man to the Willits hospital where he is reported to be improving. Layne was brought to the local jail. Tuesday he was taken to Willits and brought before Judge Whitney where he was bound over on a $1,000 bail. He was unable to raise the bail and was brought back to the county jail.

CAMPER LOST NEAR NAVARRO

A party of hunters from the bay district, assisted by the ranchers of the Anderson valley section are scouring the hills searching for some sign of a lost member. His name could not be learned but it is said that he is from San Francisco. The party went for a hunt on Sunday morning and about noon the rest of the men returned and when he did not come in they started looking for him and knowing that the ranchers in that section would know the range better they asked for assistance. Since that time they have hunted both day and noight but no trace of him has been foudn.

LEGION EXPLAINS STAND ON JAPANESE SITUATION

In light of certain comment, etc., on the activities of Lewis White Post No. 76, American Legion of Ukiah, regarding the Japanese situation in Ukiah and vicinity, the post desires to explicitly state its stand in the matter.

On July 20, at the regular meeting of the post, the question of the influx of Japanese laborers in the valley was brought up and discussed. As a result the secretary of the post was instructed to take up the motter with organizations and others in the valley importing Japanese workers and ask them to make an effort to employ white help, especially in the fruit packing season. A ready and willing response was met with in the case of the Earl Fruit Company. This concern advertised for white held and, with the aid of the Legion, was able to secure more than sufficient hands to operate their plant, showing conclusively that Ukiah can furnish competent help for the fruit packing concerns without resorting to Japanese labor.

It is not the purpose of the Legion to curtail production in any way or to inconvenience producers in the valley, financially or otherwise. We believe that our summer industries should be reserved for our women and children and others who are out of work in these stringent times. Ukiah valley has long been noted for the industry displayed by its citizens, young and old, during the short summer fruit and hop seasons, —people who are accustomed to high American standars of living, who spend their money in our community and state, and, when peril comes, are the bulwark of our financial defense.

In line with Legion acitvities all over the state, we are falling in line to preserve our American industries for our American people and, just as the community, state, and nation called upon us to preserve American liberty, so we are calling on those who would encourage a Japanese invasion of laborers—people who are temporary residents at first but who are soon sandwiched among us as permanent fixtures and sooner or later a menace, to co-operate with us in a spreading evil.

LEWIS WHITE POST NO. 76,
AMERICAN LEGION.

ORPHAN CLAIMS

Claims have been put in by the county auditor as follows: For 71 half orphans claims for $3,629.26. For three whole orphans $116.74. Two supplemental claims for two half orphans amounting to $70.00. This makes a total of $3,816 for the half year ending June, 1921.

FT. BRAGG DRY LAW IS DECLARED VALID

The Third District Court of Appeal Wednesday upheld the constitutionality of the dry ordinance of Fort Bragg.

The ruling of the court was given in a test case brought by H. S. Kinney, who applied for a writ of habeas corpus following his conviction under the ordinance.

Kinney was fined $225 with the alternative of a county jail sentence. He took the jail sentence and then appealed to the higher court for a writ of habeas corpus. His attorney argued that the passage of dry ordinance in view of the exisiting federal law was outside the powers of the Board of Trustees.

Judge Preston, of the superior court, from whose decision the case was appealed is highly elated that the upper courts have shown such good judgment.

Attorney M. H. Iversen, represent Kinney, has made an appeal to the supreme court.

MOONSHINER CAUGHT

He had $80.03, a watch and chain, some printed matter, a pair of scissors and a safety pin but these things he kept in hiding and went about begging for food. Yesterday he was picked up at Willits and arrested for vagrancy so now he has three square meals a day without worry. His address for the next 30 days beginning yesterday will be Hotel de Byrnes.

WILLITS MAN KILLED IN AIRPLANE ACCIDENT

News came this week of the untimely death at Healdsburg of Bert Fairbanks, son of A. J. Fiarbanks, suervisor of the third district. He with Kenneth Hudson had gone up in an airplane with a pilot from Berkeley whose name was Joseph Eldridge, formerly of Healdsburg. They had circled over the town and made many daring stunts when the plane dipped, righted itself and, dived down. Before the people in town hardly realized that an accident had happened they saw flames spring up from the plane where it had landed in an orchard.

A number of people immediately drove out in their machines only to witness a horrible sight. The men had been strapped in for the flight and when they landed they were surrounded by flames before they could free themselevs. When the fire had died away so that people could bring out the bodies they were charred beyond recognition. Mr. Fairbanks leaves a widow and child, who lived with him at Healdsburg. He was doing some highway construction work under his father who does extensive road construction work.

The funeral was held at Willits last Wednesday under the auspices of the Elk's lodge of Santa Rosa.

Mr. Fairbanks was 30 years old and was born in Petaluma. Besides a wife and child he leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fairbanks, a sister, Miss Ruby, a brother, Jessee L. Fairbanks.

CO. VALUATION FOR THIS YEAR

County Auditor J. J. Mathews has compiled the following information in regard to the valuation of property in Mendocino county to be used in setting the tax rate for the ensuing year. The total real estate and personal property tax roll for 1921 is $26,236,830.

Due to the adoption of Amendment No. 1 at the last election the county is relieved of the burden of payment of interest on highway bonds included in the budget of 1920, and amounting to the tidy sum of $87,834.95. Due to this fact it is expected that the tax rate will be somewhat decreased this year, though just how much can not be definitely determined at this time.

Following is an itemized statement of the total valuation of the county:

Non-operative property outside incorporated towns, $21,633,005; inside incorporated towns, $4,553,825; total real estate and personal property, tax roll 1921, $26,236,830.

Operative property (except banks and railroads) outside incorporated towns, $361,054; inside incorporated towns, $144,754; banks, outside, $63,853; inside, $372,683; railroads, outside, $2,456,400; inside, $50,000; total operative, $3,448,744; total valuation Mendocino county, $29,685,574.

Operative property except banks is taxable by county for bonds issued prior to 1910 only.

Acreage assessed on tax roll, 1,836,668.60.

The valuation for 1920 was: Non-operative $26,795,070; operative, $2,706,196.

ANDERSON HIGH SCHOOL PLANS ARE SUBMITTED

Plans are now in the Supt. of Schools' office for the new high school auditorium to be built at Anderson valley union high school. The plans as submitted by N. R. Coulter, architect, are made in such a manner as to permit other rooms to be added later.

It is reported that a bond issue will be floated in the near future to finish building such a school as should be there. The buildings they have now are only temjorary and are not what a valley, such as Anderson valley is, should allow. The new auditorium, if accepted by the board of trustees, will be one of the finest in the county and will be sufficiently large for physical culture exercises required by the state board of education. The building is estimated at a cost of $10,000.

HUNTER SHOT VALUABLE BULL

Last week Conrad Gschwend found his valuable shorthorn-durham bull dead on the rage with a bullet hole through it. It is presumed that some city hunter took the bull for a buck and shot it, and when he found out what he had done went off and left it. This bull was 3 years old an was purchased from a stock farm in Sonoma county. —Willits News.

STATE SCRIP TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION

A public auction sale of State scrip will be held by Surveyor General W. S. Kingsbury, at the State Capitol, Sacramento, Tuesday, September 6, 1921, at ten a. m.

State scrip is the cheapest land scrip on the market today.

Scrip can be purchased only by citizens of the United States who are residents of the State of California, and can be located on any vacant non-mineral government land in California.

State scrip is not transferable.

Scrip is sold in forty-acre lots for cash, personal checks received, but no purchaser can buy more than 640 acres, and the surrender of the scrip is payment for an equal acreage of government land.

At the last auction of state scrip the price received averaged $6.63 per acre.

MOONSHINE DISCOVERED ON CLEVE MARSHALL RANCH

Cleve Marshall, convicted of murder this spring is believed by Sheriff Byrnes to have been a wholesale moonshine manufacturer. Clues gained while investigating the murder case lead the sheriff to believe that Marshall had been making booze and after the trial he began a search of the ranch which terminated last week when he, with Deputy Sheriff Ward Reis, discovered and destroyed about 135 gallons of jackass brandy.

The liquor was made in a galvanized iron still and contained tanate of iron, making it of a much more poisonous nature than jackass which is produced in a copper still. The night following the murder it was buried in a secluded gulch about a mile from the house. It is said that two of the older boys of Cleve Marshall's helped in hiding the liquor. The officers also state they were told that six tons of dried prunes were used during the winter in making the illicit booze.

SOME DIFFERENCE

C. Hofman Co. are showing a unique window display this week, contrasting the purchasing power of $27 a year ago with a like amount of money today. On the left hand side of the display is a 100-lb. sack of sugar, which cost $27 a year ago. On the right hand side of the display, which represents the purchasing power of today is the 100-lb. sack of sugar, a 50-lb. sack of flour, a sack of potatoes and 34 other articles, which can be purchased for $27.

How's that for putting old H. C. L. to route?

Attorney Frank Taft came down from Willtis last night on legal business.

Ben Hofman and George Southard attended the ball game in Santa Rosa last Sunday. They made the trip in Ben's car.

Mrs. A. B. Willits and children have returned to their home in Eight Mile valley, after spending a week in town with relatives.

Mrs. R. E. Donohoe returned the first of the week from the metropolis where she has spent five weeks visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Rebscher.

Mrs. J. N. Rea of this city received news Wednesday of the death of her brother, George Eddy, of Petaluma. Mrs. Rea and daughter, Mrs. P. W. Handy will attend the funeral, which will be held in Petaluma Saturday.

Deceased formerly lived here for a time and was employed in the Union Lumber Company's logging woods. He was the father of Mrs. E. E. Brown of Fort Bragg, who was at his bedside at the time of his passing.

Lady Nimrod Gets Limit First Day

Mrs. Emil Johnson of Albion, classed as a sharp-shooter Monday when she killed two bucks in quick succession. They were running fast at over 100 yards distance.

Walter Jackson and Frank Dilling, members of Mrs. Johnson's hunting party, killed a big buck the same day.

Coaster Kills Five-Point Buck

Al McCabe of Caspar, killed one of the biggest bucks Saturday that has roamed the hills of Mendocino county for many a day.

He was a five pointed and was a perfect specimen of the "monarch of the forest," tipping the scales at 125 pounds dressed.

Coasters Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Friends from far and near called upon Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Rowe at the Carlson home Sunday afternoon and extended their warmest congratulations and best wishes.

The occasion was the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Rowe's golden wedding anniversary. The entire 50 years of their married life has been spent on this coast, and by their kind, generous and honest living they have endeared themselves in the lives of a multitude of friends, who were eager to do them honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe were married at Manchester, later moving to Albion, where they remained up to a short time ago when they came to Fort Bragg to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Lucy Carlson. Their family of three daughters and four sons are all living, and they have twenty-two grand children.

TRIP THROUGH ORE. AND WASH.

Tom Jameson, who has been touring in Oregon and Washington for the past few weeks, writes interestingly of his travels and observations in that section. The following communications have been received from him:

MYRTLE CREEK, ORE.
July 24, 1921

Myrtle Creek is a pretty little town with a population of about 500. The principal industries in the adjacent country are fruit raising, lumbering and dairying. Prunes are the most important fruit, the Italian prune seems to be preferred to the French here, but the crop on the Italians is much lighter than on the French trees this year.

There is considerable fir timber in the hills adjacent to the town and several saw mills.

The South Umgna river runs past Myrtle Creek. It is quite a large river and is fine for swimming. There is a famous swimming hole near the town which is full every afternoon. We have enjoyed many a fine swim in it.

The highway from Myrtle Creek to Roseburg is a fine paved stretch of 20 miles. It follows along the Umgna river.

Roseburg is a bustling town of about 3000 population, the county seat of Douglas county and the center of a rich agricultural and fruit region. There are many acres of prunes and apples nearby and a good many cherries.

Some 14 miles south of Roseburg is Southerin, which is surrounded by Spitzenberg apple orchards loaded with fruit. An Adventist Academy is located here.

We met and had dinner and a very pleasant call on Albert Hagne, and old time Ukiah resident. Mr. Hagne has a fine ranch leased near Southerin. We had occasion to visit his ranch on business, and he was attracted by our California license, and on inquiring we discovered we had once almost been neighbors. Mr. Hagne made many inquiries about old time residents of Ukiah, such as Emmett Donohoe, Monte Cleland, etc.

At Dillard about half way between Myrtle Creek and Roseburg there are acres and acres devoted to watermelons, muskmelons and tomatoes. All these plants are in A-1 condition.

A party of six of us went on a trip to the coast section, we went over what is known as the old Coos bay wagon road as the highway is under construction and closed to traffic. This is some road, or a trail describes it better. The grade is 30 per cent in places or steeper and about as rough as it is possible for a road to be. The roughest part being on the steepest places. As a motorist aptly said "you can only make 4 miles an hour on that road and wish you could go half as fast." There is about 15 miles of this extremely bad road. A great deal of this road is corduroyed or planked crosswise, and many of the planks are worn out so it is almost as bad as the high way from Ukiah to the forks. On this road we follow the Coquelle river for many miles. After getting out of the mountains we came into a fine country. The land has been logged off along the river and is very fertile. It is a dairy country with many beautiful Jersey cows. In the mountains we passed through magnificent forests of cedar and fir, as we drew near the coast section there were many saw mills. Myrtle Point was the first town we reached. It is a very beautiful little town about the size of Ukiah, Coquelle city the county seat of Coos county is another nice town some 9 miles from Myrtle Point. There is a fine stretch of macadam from Coquelle city to Marshfield 20 miles distant. Marshfield is correctly named for it is built right in a marsh on Coos bay. The houses are built upon stilts. They have a free auto camp park which is almost the only high ground nearby. Marshfield is the largest burg in this section and a thriving town. Near here are located the famous Smith saw mills, with a capacity of 400,000 feet of lumber per day, and employing 400 men. They also own three steam ships.

This Coos bay region is one of the most prosperous sections we have visited. It is both a great lumbering and a great dairying section.

Everything is green, we saw oats which was just coming up, and yet we feel sure it will make a fine crop.

The S. P. railroad comes in from Eugene, so this section has both rail and water transportation. But it is isolated from tourists. There is no wagon road whatever to the north, and a very poor one to the south and east, so you see very few tourists. Coos county is a little world to itself.

At North End we visited the Bruenor Co, saw mill. This is a well equipped modern mill, employing 200 men and with a capacity of 200,000 feet per day.

It is certainly a grand sight to see how easily they handle a 6 foot log, 40 feet long and how quickly it is converted into lumber.

After leaving North End we motored over a plank road for several miles to the ocean. The planks are laid lengthwise and make a fine road.

We camped right near the beach and had a great time fishing, digging clams, bathing in the surf, etc.

On our return trip we took a boat for 20 miles up Coos river. The tide water makes navigation of this river possible. The tide was low and it was difficult for the motor boat with a barge attached for autos to get up the river. During the latter part of the trip we struck the mud many times, but the boatman always skillfully kept the boat going. We enjoyed the scenery along the river immensely. There are no wagon roads here. The boatman was the mailman. Everyone had a little wharf or landing and he zig-zagged across the river throwing each one's mail on their landing. On two or three occasions the mail landed in the water. Everyone along this river seems to have a motor boat. We left the boat at Allegamy and soon plunged into a steep mountain grade. We were in a Ford truck which pulled in grand style. We would mount a steep mountain grade only to descend as steep a grade in a few minutes, and then climb again. But the road was smooth and 100 per cent better than the old Coos bay road. In the middle of the afternoon we overhauled a new Overland sedan stuck on a steep hill and had to assist them many times during the rest of the afternoon.

During the middle of the afternoon we came to Silver Falls. This is certainly a magnificent sight. The water drops several hundred feet, there is a single drop of 150 feet or more. Late in the evening we came to the Umgna river and had to be ferried across. The Umgna is some river here only 25 miles from its mouth. There is 8 feet of tide here and the tide was high when we crossed it. It sure looked like a real river.

We travelled the next day for many miles up the Umgna river. This is a great sheep and cattle country. Wild game such as pigeons, mountain quail and grouse are also abudant.

We tapped the highway at Roseburg and were soon back to Myrtle Creek feeling that we had seen a great deal of new country and had the time of our lives.

Our party consisted of Ivan, Elton, and Shelley Daly and myself and boys, Roy and Tom Jr.

We have had a splendid time at the Daly home in Myrtle Creek since we have been in Oregon.

Mr. Daly and the boys own and operate a saw mill some 4 miles from town.

VANCOUVER, WASH.
July 30th, 1921

We are in southern Washington now having traversed the great state of Oregon, and it is a great state too, with a fine summer climate, beautiful scenery and immense undeveloped resources. In the many parts of Oregon I have visited I could not help but notice how much fertile land was undeveloped.

Oregon's portion of the Pacific highway is largely under construction. A big bond issue was voted last year, and road crews are at work from one end of the state to another. Much of the highway is torn up and hard to travel over, wherever possible the traffic is detoured over adjacent roads. There roads are sometimes smooth but more often are rough and dusty. These detours are often long and cause the traveler many extra miles.

When one travels in Oregon awhile he appreciates the California State Automobile Associations signs. For many of the Oregon roads are without signs. On the highway there is an arrow pointing Pacific Highway, but once off of the highway signs are lacking. You come to the forks of a road and the question arises which is the right way? There is nothing to tell you and if there is not a house near or someone convenient to ask you simply have to guess and you can usually depend on guessing wrong and getting off the road.

There is a fine stretch of paved highway in Southern Oregon reaching from the California line to Grants Pass. From here to Myrtle Creek there are a few sections of completed highway, but most of it is uncompleted or under construction. There is a fine stretch from Myrtle Creek to Roseburg, then from Roseburg on almost to Eugene much of the road is under construction, also between Eugene and Salem.

From Salem to Portland and on to Vancouver there is a fine finished paved road.

We left Myrtle Creek Wednesday morning and made fair time until we reached Drain where we had to wait one hour and 10 minutes until the noon hour to get through a portion of the highway that is under construction. This road is closed and only opened to traffic between 12 and 1 p. m. and 5:30 p. m. and 7:30 a. m., also a few minutes at 10 a. m. and 3 p. m.

After travelling over loose crushed rock, rough gravel and dusty roads filled with chuck holes, we finally reached the Hedlund home near Brownville, Linn County. These roads reminded us of the old time Redwood valley roads, and had a stormy resemblance to some sections of our present roads.

We were right gladly received and royally entertained at the Hedlund home. They have a nice 80 acre ranch. Over half of it being in cultivation. Mr. Hedlund has a splendid crop of wheat and oats. He has filled his barn with wild grass and clover hay and has 5 acres of nice corn which will go in the silo. 1¼ acres are in logan berries. They have already sold 90 crates off of them. They also have straw berries, garden truck, prunes, cherries, pears and apples. All their fruit trees are well filled. They have 5 pure bred cows and a fine lot of young chickens. All these things keep them busy as bees. They are very much pleased with their place. Mr. Hedlund owns an interest in a thresher and expects to start out threshing in a few days.

After spending a day at the hospitable Hedlund home we turned our faces north once more. Mrs. Hedlund accompaning us for a visit with old Washington friends.

While at the Hedlund home we visited some of the neighboring places and found many who inquired of the Bedmar's and the Olson's. We looked over Mr. Olson's old place too.

On our journey north we travelled over loose crushed rock roads which are hard to ride over and hard on tires too. We stopped and spent some time at Albany seeing the city. It is a fine busy town. We met a Mr. Curry here who used to live in Ukiah and attended the Central school years ago.

At noon we lunched on the Capitol grounds at Salem, then we visited the Capitol building. Salem is a beautiful little city.

We travelled all day through the fertile Willamette river valley. This valley is not large like the Sacramento valley but is more like the Shasta valley. There are fringes of beautiful fir trees everywhere. On all sides are seen heavy crops of grain and clover. There are many fruit trees too, principally Italian prunes, apples and cherries.

The beautiful Williamette river was in view many times as we followed its course all the way.

Oregon City is a bustling town. There are large paper pulp mills in this vicinity.

From Oregon City to Portland the roads are fine. We had a blow out in the edge of east Portland, the first tire trouble we had had on the entire trip so far. East Portland is largely a residential section.

We crossed the Columbia river on the big interstate bridge and were in Washington state. This bridge is one of the largest in the United States. It is 1½ miles across it.

Vancouver Washington is just across the Columbia from Portland. It is a city of 12,000 population. This will be our headquarters for a few days. The wife was born and spent her school days at Grravelly Point and Hockinson near here and has scores of relatives and old school mates to visit.

We have found that Oregon and Washington have a fine summer climate. The hottest day we experienced since we arrived in Oregon on July 12th has been 89 degrees and very few days have been over 85 degrees. The residents here talk about hot weather but to us it just seems pleasant.

From Vancouver snowy Mt. Hood and also St. Helens are in full view. St. Helens resembles Mt. Shasta.

Myrtle Creek, Oregon,
August 5, 1921.

The city of Vancouver is situated right on the mighty Columbia only a few miles from Portland. The U. S. barracks are located here. We had the pleasure of driving through the government reserve and observing the many buildings. Several hundred soldiers are quartered here at all times. You can see khaki uniforms in all the streets of the city. There are large shipyards here too, but they are closed at present, consequently there are many idle men in town. This town is the county seat of Clarke county. It has nicely paved streets and a local and interurban street railway system.

North of the city are many acres of beautiful orchards, largely Italian prunes. The crop is almost a complete failure this year. There is much dairying near by, too.

Besides Vancouver we visited Orcard, Brush Prairie, Battle Ground, Hockinson, and Heisson. These are all small towns within a radius of twenty miles of Vancouver.

This is where the wife was born and spent her school days. She saw again the houses she used to live in, the schools she attended, the church where she went to Sunday school, the cherry trees she ate cherries out of and the old maple she played under. She saw relatives and old school mates and friends by the score.

We were certainly gladly received and royally entertained.

We visited Otto Rosander's place near Brush Prairie Mr. Rosander was not at home. We were told George King passed through here some two weeks ago.

Some of the southern Washington land is very fertile, producing wonderful crops of wild hay, clover, spuds, prunes, apples, cherries, and garden truck. The only fruit grown as a commercial crop is Italian prunes. Cherries grow to perfection here but they ripen too late to be profitable commercially. We certainly had our fill of cherries. The boys climbed the big trees and ate cherries as long as they could hold any. The trees were still red with luscious Royal Ann's and Black Republics, which were drying up on the trees or dropping to the ground to be devoured by ready waiting hogs. All kinds of berries are grown extensively here too. Logan berries, red raspberries and strawberries seem to be the favorites.

We found a portion of the land in this vicinity light and rocky. Large areas are only about as productive as our own upland. Some of this land is rocky, and some sandy. After looking at their land you are surprised that it produces as well as it does.

This country was once covered with a heavy growth of fir and was cleared with much labor and expense. Many acres are still covered with black fir snags and piles of logs. Fir is the only wood used for firewood here, even stove wood.

There are four stretches of paved highway leading north and northeast from Vancouver. One of these is the Pacific highway. The other stretches only lead out 10 or 15 miles from town. These roads are great but as soon as you come to the end of one of these stretches you are in trouble for then it is either loose, freshly gravelled road, or worse still, loose crushed rock, or dust a foot deep and chuck holes. An immense amount of work is being done on the roads so they should soon be better.

There are not anything like as many cars here in proportion to the population as in California.

I am told that it rains more or less for 10 months of the year, then the roads are muddy, and when the rain once stops the dust comes like magic.

As Mrs. Hedlund accompanied us on the Washington trip we came back again and once more enjoyed the hospitality of the Hedlund home. Mr. and Mrs. Hedlund are surely pleased with their fine home.

On the return trip from Portland we stopped over at Albany awhile. This is one of the finest towns in Oregon to our notion. We found everything very reasonable in price here.

Cottage Grove is a sawmill town. There are no less than 23 sawmills in the immediate vicinity. All the roads out of the Willamette valley have to pass through Cottage Grove as the mountains come together here.

Roseburg, Myrtle Creek and vicinity is the warm spot of Oregon. Winter frosts are light and fruit failures almost unknown. Even English walnuts thrive here. The summer climate is nice. The hottest day we have seen so far is 92 degrees.

H. H. McKinney, of Madison, Wis., a former well known young rancher of this valley, arrived here Saturday for a short visit with relatives. He departed Monday for Oregon, on business connected with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and will investigate a wheat disease in that section.

Prof. Holman left many sincere and admiring friends among the young folks of this valley who are earnestly hoping to have the pleasure and benefit of his society during his next vacation period. His wife and their charming little daughters, Miriam and Catherine, and Mrs. T. P. Hopkins will join him at their home in Berkeley at the end of the present week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Engleman and daughter, Dorothy, were business visitors to the county seat on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Whittaker paid a business visit to Ukiah last week, where Mrs. Whittaker was summoned as a juryman on a criminal case.

O. T. Price, proprietor of the Price's garage and Mrs. M. V. Smith transacted business at the county seat last Saturday.

W. P. Clark, chief operator at the Snow Mountain Power Company's plant, made a business trip to Sonoma county last week. The presents which he brought to his wife were a vacuum cleaner and a steam pressure cocker. These implements are the finest type of modern scientific household convenience and are of interest to the progressive home makers of this valley.

J. E. March and Ernest Wright are spending a few days in Willits on business.

On the third inst. at Ukiah there was born to the wife of J. A. Gavin, a daughter. The happy parents are receiving the felicitations of their friends while grandfather John Gavin is also being showered with congratulations.

George Raymond was a business visitor to the county seat on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Busch are entertaining a large number of friends from Berkeley.

The Misses Nina and Helene Holbrook, the beautiful young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Holbrook of Martinez, accompanied by J. D. Torreyson of Oakland, have spent the past week in this valley where they were guests at the fine country home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bevans. Last Friday evening in compliment to her guests, Mrs. Bevans gave a delightful party to which a number of their relatives were invited. The spacious rooms of the Bevans homestead were elabortely and artistically decorated with brilliant cannas and fragrant flaming geraniums. The evening's entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and story telling in which the Misses Nina and Helene Holbrook and George and Kenneth Busch participated. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, fruits, and cakes were served. Mr. and Mrs. Bevans took their guests to Ukiah on Saturday where they will spend a few days with old friends. Later they will go to Santa Rosa where they will spend the last few days of their fortnight's vacation with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Roberts.

SPORT STATEMENTS

The Potter valley baseball team of which Cecil King is the energetic and enthusiastic captain, defeated the Redwood valley team in the game played on the Potter valley union school diamond last Sunday by a score of 12 to 5. The lively and interesting game was ably umpired by J. J. Thornton, the justice of whose decisions left no room for protest. The star players of the winning team were E. Vitt, pitcher; L. Vitt, 3rd baseman; A. Edwards, shortstop; and Foster Guntly, 2nd baseman. E. A. Spotswood, 1st baseman, contributed to the victory by making a home run that awakened the enthusiasm of the Potter valley rooters. E. Vitt pitched a great game for the victors, won high hurling honors, and drove the ex-league from Redwood valley down to defeat.

CHURCH NOTES

In addition to the regular services which are held in the local M. E. Church, a sacred concert is now given each Sunday afternoon, under the large awning in the beautiful shady yard of the H. Johnson home. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson cordially invite the people of the valley to attend and enjoy these concerts. Rev. Couch, the Baptist minister of Ukiah, preaches there on the 4th Sunday of each month.

The funeral of J. C. Hughes was held at the Potter valley cemetery at ten o'clock a. m. Sunday, August 7th, with Rev. A. Pollard conducting the ceremonies. The sermon was filled with tender sympathy for every member of the bereaved and sorrow stricken family. The hymns were sung by a select choir from Ukiah. The pall bearers were M. R. and W. S. Bevans, John Gavin, Joe Brower.

The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

A large congregation gathered at the cemetery to pay this last tribute of respect to their dear friend. The deceased leaves to mourn his loss his widow, Mrs. Sarah Hughes and his two sons, Walter and Albert, besides brothers, sisters, and other relatives.

The many Potter valley friends of Editor and Mrs. E. P. Thurston take this means of extending to them sincere and heartfelt sympathy in the irreparable loss they sustained by the sad and sudden death of their beloved and only son.

A. A. Clapp and family, of Santa Rosa, who have spent a two weeks' vacation in Potter valley as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thornton, returned home on Thursday.

Attorney Chas. Kasch and family left yesterday for a short vacation trip on Eel river.

Miss Mary Donnelly, of Boonville, has spent the last week at the Palace hotel.

RAILRAOD WILL STRIVE TO ELIMINATE ACCIDENTS

Under the immediate direction of W. S. Palmer, president and general manager, assisted by William S. Wollner, general safety agent, the twenty-five hundred employees of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company will strive to go through the entire month of September without an accident. September will mark the commencement of this railroad's organized safety activities, the present month being the third anniversary of the including of a safety organization as a regular branch of the railroad's operating activities.

Even with the intensive safety work that has been done by the Northwestern Pacific during the past three years, there has been an average of eleven employees injured per month, the best record that the employees have made during this period being during June 1919 and April 1920 in each of which four men were hurt. If the railroad men accomplish their objective it will mark an epoch in railroad operating history.

In addition to endeavoring to avoid injury to themselves, the railroad men will make an especial effort to safeguard from injury, passengers and other persons who travel on the railroad or use its property. The Northwestern Pacific has the reputation for being one of the safest roads in the country on which to travel, most of the accidents to other than employees being to trespassers and persons killed and injured at railroad grade crossings while endeavoring to "beat the train" to the crossing.

ENTERTAINED AT TEA

Miss Alma Cleary of San Francisco was the guest of honor at an informal tea given by Mrs. C. N. Mortenson and Mrs. Mary Ruddock on Wednesday, at the Ruddock home. The guests were Mrs. H. L. CORRESPONDENCE COURSES IN ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

More than 11,000 students have enrolled in correspondence instruction in animal husbandry during the five years in which such courses have been given, according to H. M. Butterfield, Supervisor of Correspondence Instruction at the University of California College of Agriculture.

"Purebred animals from the backbone of the State's livestock industry," according to Butterfield, "and it is only right that the University should encourage the use of purebreds in improving the general average. California is proud of the records being made by her pure bred stock, which is winning highest honors in State and National contests."

Advance figures from the 1920 census give the following number of purebreds in California: dairy cattle, 13,244; beef cattle, 19,144; sheep, 28,831; swine, 35,741.

The University now has correspondence courses available on dairy cow, sheep, swine, poultry, rabbit, and milk goat raising. Information concerning these courses will be furnished by the Dean of the College of Agriculture, University of California.

REDWOOD VALLEY NEWS NOTES

REDWOOD VALLEY, August 10. Alfred Peter Nelson and his bride were visitors in Ukiah and vicinity last week, in their touring car—just touring and having a good time. Mr. Nelson was for some years a resident land owner in this valley.

More building operations in Redwood valley than at any time in previous history,—one hall, six residences and as many more large barns, now newly finished or in course of construction.

Mr. Strand has had a well drilled, going ninety-three feet, with fifty feet of water in same.

The owners of the "Bonnie Brae" ranch have contracted to deliver 20,000 cords of four foot wood to the California Charcoal Works at Basil station.

Returning deer hunters report all of the various kinds of luck, some did and others didn't get a buck.

Yes, we took Potter valley "into camp" Sunday at the ball game to the score of twelve to five, in Potter valley's favor.

Redwood valley union school bonds have not been sold to date, however that is the fate of many bonds, school or other. The fact should be blamed on the condition of the money market and not on some banker. The bonds will sell as soon as securities of a similar character are made salable by an easier market.

When you visit Snyder's orchard up in the hills the view of Potter valley is just grand, but you ought to look at Redwoood valley some time from Snyder's.

The Potter valley road across the hills can be a reality by a united effort. The need becomes more apparent daily. Immense quantities of material are to be moved from the Gravelly valley project and the amount so far trucked is as nothing to what will be moved. Potter valley needs closer railroad and mail facilities and Redwood valley can give them to her.

Mrs. Connolly and daughters from San Francisco and Mrs. Dixon from Chico were visitors at the D. A. Wilcox home for the past week. Miss Maurice Wilcox and Mr. Wilcox were Sacramento visitors recently.

Some of our valley residents who are boosters for the coming local fair have reverted to the customs and manners of the ancient Babylonians, forming lines and watering acres of growing stuff with buckets filled from the near by creek.

Jim Winsby has the best looking corn and garden we have seen on the valley floor. Mr. Winsby irrigates by gravity, utilizing near by springs.

PEARS SHIPPED EAST

Fifty carloads of pears have been shipped from Ukiah and the nearby country, to New York on consignment. The returns for the first two carloads showed an average of $90 per ton and owing to the fact that they were the first pears to be shipped they were not quite standard size. The pears that are being shipped now will probably bring better than $100 a ton. Some of the growers have already finished shipping their fruit, but it is reported there will be 50 more carloads to go out, making an average of about 60 per cent of the usual crop.

Joe Cunningham left this week for Colfax where he will spend several weeks.

MACK PERFORMANCE COUNTS

Confidence In Motor Trucks

PERFORMANCE IS WHAT DETERMINES THE CONFIDENCE OF AN OWNER IN HIS MOTOR TRUCK EQUIPMENT. CONFIDENCE IS GAINED AS THE RESULT OF EXPERIENCE—EITHER HIS OWN OR ANOTHER'S—AND IT IS THE DECIDING FACTOR IN MAKING A SELECTION.

MACK TRUCK OWNERS HAVE CONFIDENCE. THEY KNOW THAT THEIR TRUCK WILL PERFORM AS IT IS CALLED UPON. THEY HAVE NO HESITANCY IN TACKLING A JOB OF UNUSUAL DIFFICULTIES BECAUSE THEY ARE POSITIVE THE MACK WILL ACCOMPLISH THE DESIRED RESULTS.

NOT ALONE IN THE TRUCK, BUT IN THE ORGANIZATION SELLING THE TRUCK, AS WELL, THERE MUST BE CONFIDENCE. IF YOU BUY A MACK TRUCK ANY PLACE YOU CAN HAVE CONFIDENCE IN THE SALES REPRESENTATIVE. PERFOMANCE SUCH AS HAS MADE THE MACK FAMOUS THROUGH 32 YEARS OF SUCCESSFUL PRODUCTION IS THE ETERNAL MOTTO OF "THE HOUSE THAT MACK BUILT."
